Special thanks to today's meeting sponsors:

Formed from portions of Randolph and Lee counties on February 16, 1856, by an act of the Georgia General Assembly, Terrell County is named for Dr. William Terrell (1778–1855) of Sparta, Georgia, who served in the Georgia General Assembly and the United States House of Representatives. Approximately 337 square miles in size, the county had a population of 9,315 in the 2010 Census. The county's highest recorded population was 22,003 in the 1910 Census.

The present Terrell County Courthouse was built in 1892 and was first renovated in 1936. More recently, a $2.1 million renovation was completed in 2009. Designed by W. H. Parkins, the structure is a "high" Victorian facility.

Terrell County has four towns: Dawson (county seat) Bronwood, Sasser and Parrott.
