Complaint Process

- Complaint is received
- Reviewed by the IG
- One of 4 things can happen
Complaint Process

1. If it is an issue for another division, it is noted on the routing paperwork and forwarded to the proper division.

2. If there is insufficient information, a letter is mailed to the complainant requesting additional information.

3. If the allegation looks like it may need immediate attention, additional information is requested via phone.

4. If it appears to be appropriate for investigations, it is assigned to an investigator.
Complaint Process

• Once a case is assigned, the investigator conducts interviews, gathers paperwork and other evidence, then prepares a report and forwards it to the IG for review.

• The IG reviews the case, makes any further inquiry deemed necessary and schedules the case for presentation to the State Election Board.
Presenting Complaint

- A case presented to the SEB is still considered an ongoing investigation.

- It may be forwarded to the Attorney General’s Office before final disposition with the SEB.
Typical Issues Involving Election Day

– Opening and closing of Polls
– Privacy in the voting booths
– Violation of the 150 ft. rule
– Checking the seals and making sure the proper machines are at the proper polling place
– Touch screen and Express Poll issues
– Provisional Ballots
– Signs and locations
– Photo ID issues
– Campaigning at the polls
Monitoring

• When?
  – Early and Advance Voting
  – Absentee Voting
  – Election Day

• Monitors are there to observe.
• Monitors are not there to give advice.
• Monitors are not there to investigate.
• If an investigation is necessary a case will be opened and an investigator assigned.
